Waveland moves on water system extension loan

By EDGAR PEREZ
 Waveland Mayor John Longo Jr. Wednesday affixed his signature to eight Farmers Home Loan Administration application documents which are expected to result in an almost $1 million improvement to the city's water system. Also at the Wednesday night Waveland Board of Aldermen's meeting, bids on a $100,000 extension of the city's sewerage system at US-90 and Nicholson Avenue were tabled for further study.

Ward One Alderman Barbara Rappold said pre-applications have been accepted by FmHA on a $330,820 loan for the proposed water system improvements.

"The pre-apps were approved and they said to come on with the applications, and that sounds pretty good," Rappold commented on the city's chances of receiving the loan.

"It should take them about three months to approve the loan, another three months will be needed for design, and about six months for construction," Rappold reported.

The proposed improvements include a line from the city's existing well off Gulfside Drive near Fire Station No. Two across an easement to Margie Street, and along Margie Street to the north side of US-90.

Above the highway, the line will extend east to Nicholson Avenue and the shopping centers under development there, and west to Our Shopping center at Waveland Avenue where a new elevated water storage tank is planned.

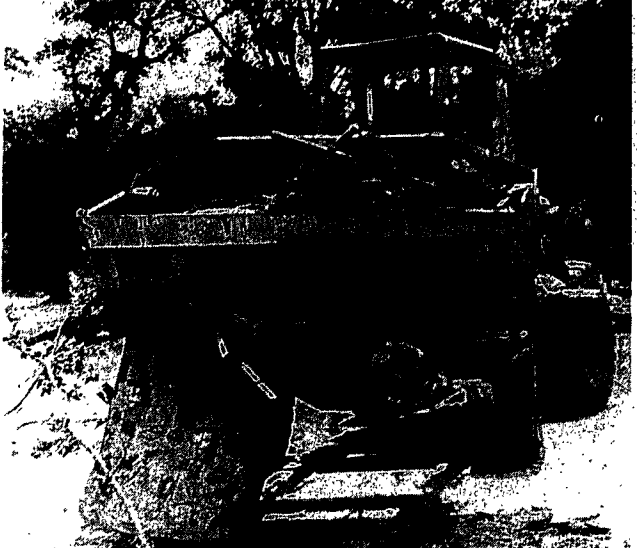

"These extensions to the water system will tie into the existing loop and increase water pressure citywide," noted Rappold who is also city clerk.

Included in the proposal are the 250,000-gallon water tower; installation of 5,500 linear feet of 10-inch cast iron pipe and 7,500 feet of 12-inch cast iron pipe; and four tunnelings to run pipe under US-90.

The federal loan applications were developed for the city by Louis Eaton Engineers of Jackson.

Longo, Rappold and Aldermen Herman Yarborough, Louis Smolensky and Jack Toomey met for some 1.5 hours with Ray Eaton of the engineering firm behind locked doors in an upstairs City Hall conference room prior to the regularly scheduled 7:30

Sills recommends new merit system, in-school suspension

By RICH ADAMS
 Hancock County Superintendent Billy D. Sills said Friday he will ask the school board to approve a number of programs, including in-school suspension, a student merit system, and additional teacher-sponsor pay supplements at the regular board meeting July 7 at 6 p.m.

"We have done a lot of good things in the last six months, such as opening the Silver Creek Handicapped Center. I look for a lot of progressive moves in the next 3.5 years," Sills said Friday.

One recommendation Sills made Friday is an in-school suspension program, a type of solitary confinement in which students suspended from regular classrooms for disciplinary reasons will be required to attend special classes instead of being ejected from school for a three, six, or nine day period.

"Many Schools have begun the search for other-than-traditional means of punishing unacceptable behavior. Corporal punishment and suspension have not proved to be the deterrents we once believed they would be," Sills wrote in his 14-page handout to the board.

Sills refers to suspensions as 'three-day vacations,' and states that 'some SILLS-Page 6A an administrator in various schools, including Harrison Central, Orange Grove, West Marion, and Lloyd Star in Lincoln County, Sills said Friday.

The new principal has acted in that capacity at Orange Grove Middle School since 1977. Prior to that he was principal of Harrison Central for seven years and was in the central office of the Harrison Central School District for one year, Sills reported.

His pay will be $25,000, the superintendent added. Board Members Oris and Louie HILLMAN-Page 2A

Port commission tables Bayou Cadet basin plan

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
 The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission took no action on a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' Bayou Cadet harbor basin dredging plan following a joint meeting with the County Board of Supervisors Thursday night.

"The only way the county could undertake this project would be with a bond issue. ...there's no way a county bond issue would pass."

"The cost is prohibitive so far as the county's concerned," Kellar added. Commissioner Ronald Artigues stated, "It's my feeling the Corps doesn't want the project to be implemented because everytime we get close they throw something else up in front of us."

Webre suggested, "I think the Corps gives us no alternative but to sit back and wait for more funding."

After a review of the itemized project costs submitted by the Corps, District Five Supervisor James Travira stated, "They're asking $7,000 per acre on that swamp land."

"You're going to buy marsh for $7,000 per acre when you sell Port Blenville Industrial Park land for $6,000 an acre," Travira asked.

Kellar replied, "I think that land was reappraised for $3,000 per acre."

Webre reported the Corps calculated land purchase costs for the project at $135,000 and $87,000 for a 3,000-foot BASIN PLAN-Page 8A

Sheriff investigating early Friday shooting

By ELLIS CUEVAS
 Hancock County Sheriff Ronald (Ronnie) Peterson reported an early Friday morning shooting of Donald Ladner, Tr. 1, Box 362, Pass Christian, (Hancock County) is under investigation.

Peterson said, "Our dispatcher received a call from an anonymous person at 1:45 a.m. stating there was an emergency at Henley's Place, Hwy. 603. When deputies A.J. Cuevas and Willie Lee arrived they found the place closed."

"A little later we received a call from William Carbonette, security guard at Hancock General Hospital, reporting a gun shot victim was brought in," Peterson added. The two deputies went to HGH.

Peterson reported that Ladner was transferred to Gulfport Memorial Hospital with gun shot wounds to his thigh and leg.

"At 4 a.m. Investigator Delbert Seay spoke to Ladner who told him that he and C.J. Saucier were playing with a shotgun in the parking lot of Henley's Place and that it accidentally discharged hitting Ladner in the leg," the sheriff said.

The gun shot victim will be questioned again, according to the sheriff, as he is still under sedation.

ECHO STAFF MEMBERS RECEIVE AWARDS—The Sea Coast Echo received one first place plaque and four second-place certificates during a Better Newspaper Contest awards breakfast Friday in conjunction with the 114th Mississippi Press Association Annual Meeting at the Broadwater Beach Hotel in Biloxi. MPA Vice-President Marie H. Luke of the Daily Times Leader, West Point presents the first place plaque for best news story to Echo Managing Editor Edgar Perez and Staff Reporter Rich Adams for their combined, in-depth report on a local teachers protest in 1979. Adams, also sports editor for the Echo, receives a second place certificate in the best sports column category for his Sideline Synopsis column which appeared in the Echo throughout football season. Publisher Ellis Cuevas accepts two second place awards, one for community service for his reporting on a dangerous hole off the Waveland beach which claimed more than 20 lives, and the other for best editorial page. General Manager Randy Ponder receives a second place certificate in the best feature photo division for his photograph of four World War I veterans on the Hancock County Courthouse steps during Veterans Day ceremonies. The association received more than 1,000 entries statewide this year. (Photo courtesy of MPA)

PLAYFUL LADY-The Bay-Waveland Humane Society would like to find a good home for this female, mostly beagle, named Lady. A Humane Society spokesman said Lady would be an excellent dog for a family with young children because she loves to play, is very gentle and is an alert watchdog. The Humane Society also is looking for a good home for a female, mixed labrador and boxer, named Mystery. The dog is described as a very good watchdog. Corrections

In a recent Sea Coast Echo Letters to the Editor column, the name of Hancock North Central Principal Thad Haskins was misspelled. The Echo apologizes for the error.

A photo caption in the previous Sea Coast Echo edition reported Ms. Pamela Joann Smith, Waveland's Miss Hospitality, will attend Faith Christian College in New Orleans in the fall. Ms. Smith will in fact attend Word of Faith, a Christian college in New Orleans, where she plans to study ministerial voice and piano.

VA burial benefits range up to $1,100

Veterans should remind their families periodically that the Veterans Administration can provide from $450 to $1,100 toward their burial expenses. Mike Ladner, Hancock Veterans Service Officer, reminds.

The amount depends on whether the death results from a service connected condition and whether the veteran is buried in a national cemetery.

Ladner said awareness of VA burial benefits can often spare the family of a deceased veteran both anxiety and financial hardship immediately following the veteran's death.

VA provides up to $300 toward the burial expenses of eligible veterans and an additional $150 as a plot or interment allowance if the veteran is not buried in a national cemetery or other government cemetery.

If a veteran's death is service connected, VA will pay an amount not to exceed $1,100 in lieu of the usual burial allowances.

These VA payments will be reduced or eliminated in cases where the veteran's employer or a state agency has made such payments.

Veterans discharged under other than dishonorable conditions who served in the Spanish-American War, during the Mexican Border period, World Wars I and II, the Korean Conflict or the Vietnam Era are eligible for VA plot and burial allowances and for burial in a national cemetery.

Peacetime veterans with other than dishonorable discharges are eligible for burial in a national cemetery and for a headstone or grave marker.

But peacetime veterans are not entitled to the burial or plot allowance unless they were receiving compensation payments or were discharged for disability reasons.

VA will also provide a headstone or grave marker for eligible veterans, and memorial markers will be furnished for certain members of the armed forces who die on active duty and whose remains are not recovered, or who are buried at sea.

An American flag will also be provided upon request for use in covering the casket, Warnock said.

With the exception of Arlington National Cemetery, burial is available to eligible veterans at all national cemeteries having space, and may also be authorized for an eligible veteran's wife or husband, minor children and, under certain circumstances, unmarried adult children.

Eligibility requirements for burial at Arlington National Cemetery may be obtained from the Superintendent, Arlington National Cemetery, Arlington, VA., 22211.

Ladner, Monvel Cuevas, Johnny Banks, and Board President Woodrow Ladner all voted in favor of hiring Hillman, Sills added.

In other business Friday, the board hired Douglas McClure as a Gulfview Elementary School teacher to replace an educator who resigned earlier this year.

McClure was hired on Sills' recommendation.

Also Friday, the board approved payment of the following bills:

-School Architect John Mykolyk, second payment of architect fees for repairs of tornado damage to Gulfview Elementary, $4,000;

-Payment of $5,685 to Gulf Coast Security for 757 hours of around-the-clock guard duty at Gulfview while repairs of tornado damage is completed;

-Payment of $31,398 to Bay Contractors for repair work to Gulfview Elementary; and

-Payment of $11,831 to Gulf Electric for rewiring at Gulfview Elementary. The board also approved an increase in the salary of Rhea Scaffidi who works as a clerk-typist at the county school office.

The board recessed until Wednesday, June 25, when the 1981-1982 budget will be discussed.

p.m. board meeting.
Rappold said later the unannounced discussion meeting centered around the FmHA applications and the US-90 sewerage improvements.

Also at the regular meeting, Longo and the board presented a certificate of honorary citizenship to Waveland Policeman Claude Yarborough who recently was wounded by gunshot while pursuing a fugitive.

Yarborough was also cited by Police Chief Donald Dorn with membership in the police department's Order of The Purple Heart, a distinction reserved for officers injured in the line of duty.

In addition, Longo presented Dorn with a citation on behalf of the Krewe of Nereids carnival organization in appreciation of the police department's assistance to the organization, especially during the krewe's annual Mardi Gras parade.

Also Wednesday, the board voted to increase the frequency of pickup at beachfront dumpsters to six times per week through the summer.

Those four containers are maintained for the city by Gulf Coast Waste and Disposal, Inc. The city will return to its regular pickup three times per week in October through May.

At the request of Ms. Geraldine Lang of Bay St. Louis, the board approved a $100 contribution on behalf of Waveland patrons of the Hancock County Health Department which will use the funds toward purchase of a dextrometer to test blood sugar of diabetics.

The board also took under consideration a complaint from a resident of the 400 block of Louisa Street that his neighbors are raising chickens.

The man claims the practice is illegal and creates a nuisance in the neighborhood.

Motorcycle mishap

victim recovering

A 20-year-old Bay St. Louis man is reported recovering satisfactorily at his home, 1000 Dunbar Avenue, from severe facial injuries sustained in a June 7 US-90 motorcycle accident.

James W. Layne, who was recently discharged from active duty with the U.S. Army, was treated for his injuries at Coast Community Hospital in Biloxi, according to Ms. Carrie Layne Roques, also of the Dunbar Avenue address, the injured man's mother.

Layne is slated to return to the hospital in approximately three months for additional corrective surgery, Ms. Roques reported.

Bay Library features Artist of the Month

BY JOE PILET

Carl Baldenhofer, artist and teacher of art, was selected by Friends of the Library to open a new feature entitled "Painting of the Month" for patrons of the library.

On exhibit to the right of the entrance is his oil painting depicting a southern patio entrance. Baldenhofer's works, well known in this area, include such titles as "This Property Is Condemned," the site of a movie of the same name, and a likeness of the Merchant's Bank.

The painting will remain on display for the month of June at which time it will be replaced with the work of another local artist.

As chairman of the art project for the library, Baldenhofer will schedule displays for the year. During the past three years he has devoted his time and talent toward teaching classes of

Senior Citizens and says that some of his pupils are really very good.

The purpose of the Painting of the Month feature, according to Librarian Prima Wusnick, is to better acquaint patrons with the work of our local artists and to encourage a deeper appreciation of talent.

Russell Gould, cartoon artist of Long Beach, donated to the library the attractive easel on which art work will be displayed.

Gail Thames, who chairs the "Plant of the Week" project reports an enthusiastic response from growers of potted plants. A different plant for each week of the entire year has been pledged.

The check-out desk reports a lively interest evidenced in borrowing books on gardening and house plant culture.

Visit your library frequently - browse around and discover many books available for your reading and learning enjoyment.

MISSISSIPPI WEEKLY WEATHER

WEATHER SUMMARY: (National Weather Service): It was a dry period for most of the state, although a few small areas in the north got over an inch of rain from midweek thundershowers. The greatest 24-hour rainfall reported was 1.93 inches at Corinth during the evening of the 29th. Average temperatures were within 2 degrees of normal for this time of the year at most places. Reported extremes ranged from 50 degrees near Oxford on the 27th to 92 at six stations on five different afternoons.

CROP SUMMARY: Planting progressed rapidly

during the week with cotton, corn and rice planting almost completed. Soybean planting was in full swing over most of the state. Dry, windy conditions during the week helped hay harvesting.

Rains varied over the state with northern and central counties reporting adequate to surplus soil moisture and the remainder of the state reporting mostly adequate soil moisture. There were 4.6 days suitable for fieldwork compared to 1.0 day last week and 1.6 days for the same week last year.

Cotton planting was 98 percent completed compared to 99 percent for both last year and the average. Eighty-five percent of the crop was up to stand compared to 89 percent for last year and for the average. The crop was in fair to good condition.

Soybean planting was 43 percent completed compared to 37 percent last year and 48 percent for the five-year average. The crop was 20 percent up to stand compared to 25 percent last year and 31 percent for the five-year average.

Hay was 17 percent harvested compared to 18 percent last year and 24 percent average.

County Agent's Notes

by John Smith

The value of farm production in Hancock County was up about $1.2 million in 1979 to a value of almost $7.5 million. This is in line with the statewide increase, where the value of production reached $2.928 billion - a record value for the second year in a row.

Several factors contributed to the increase, the two most important being higher crop yields and higher cattle prices. Some crop yields were at or near record levels in 1979. Cattle prices increased sharply in 1979 and averaged about 50 percent above the 1978 level.

Beef cattle is still the third leading income producer in the county with a 1979 value of $1.1 million. Forestry is first with a value of almost $2.25 million.

Soybean yields increased over 1978 and prices received were near those of a year ago. Soybean yields were the highest ever recorded.

The County's 11,000-acre soybean crop was valued at $2,175,000. Dairy wheat, corn, hogs, hay, horticulture and other miscellaneous crops amounted to an additional $1,420,000.

While most farmers in the county made some money last year, net farm income did not increase as much as we had hoped it would. Inflation again hit the farmers especially hard. Farm input prices increased about 15 percent in 1979.

Farmers must buy machinery, fertilizers, pesticides and other crop and livestock inputs at retail, and sell their products at wholesale. They have no control over either. While many complain about moderately higher food prices, all agree higher prices are better than the alternative - a food shortage. Like the rest of us, farmers must make a profit to stay in business.

The agricultural program in Hancock County is aimed at helping farmers use their resources profitably. The Hancock County Extension Service is a full partner in the statewide agricultural development program called III by '83.

Sponsored by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, III by '83 has a goal of increasing the value of production in the state to $3 billion annually by 1983.

The projected agricultural income in Hancock County for 1983 is about $7.8 million. This goal can be reached and even surpassed if farmers in most commodity areas will use Extension recommendations and follow good management practices.

The outlook for agriculture this year is not as bright as 1978. The soybean outlook is poor to fair, with acreage expected to be about the same.

INVITATION FOR BIDS
STUMPAGE FOR SALE

ON COUNTY SCHOOL LANDS
Sealed bids will be received by the Hancock County Board of Education at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, Hancock County, up to and not later than 9 a.m., July 7, 1980, for the purchase on a lump sum basis of all timber, standing or down, designated for cutting in Section 16, Township 9S., Range 15W., estimated to contain 1176 cords of pulpwood more or less. The above figures are not to be construed to be the exact volume marked.

Each bidder is expected to make his own cruise and to bid accordingly. Before bids are submitted, full information concerning the timber, the conditions of the sale and the submission of the bids should be obtained from the Hancock County Superintendent of Education, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, or the District Forester, Mississippi Forestry Commission, Wiggins, Mississippi. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. This is a simple row thinning of a pine plantation. Every third row is designated to be sold and removed. At a minimum, every 6th tree in a row that is to be removed was marked with a good spot of orange paint.

Proposals shall be accompanied by a cashier's check, certified check, money order, or bid bond in the amount of five percent (5 percent) of the maximum total of the proposal, made payable to the Board of Education, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. If a bid bond is used, it shall be signed or counter-signed by a Mississippi agent of a surety company qualified and authorized to do business in the State, as required by law. Cash or uncertified checks shall not be accepted, and if attached shall disqualify the bid.

All timber will be paid for when the timber contract is signed. The successful bidder must deposit with the Board of Education, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, ten percent (10 percent) of the total bid to guarantee the faithful performance of each and every article of the timber sale contract. Upon written notice of completion of the contract in full by the buyer, the Seller will return the performance bond in full, less any money withheld as damages by the Seller.

Bids should be addressed to the Hancock County Board of Education, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. The envelope should be clearly marked to indicate that it contains a bid for timber. The timber may be inspected at any time.

Representatives of the Mississippi Forestry Commission will meet all interested buyers on the steps of the courthouse, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, at 1:00 p.m., July 28, 1980, to show them the tract of timber and explain markings, how trees were measured, expected volume from specific trees, and answer other questions. The contract will be for a period of 12 months from the date of signing, and will provide for a 6 month extension by mutual agreement of the Seller and Buyer, in case inclement weather should disrupt logging for an appreciable time.

The Mississippi Forestry Commission does hereby fix $9408 as the minimum acceptable price for the designated timber. In submitting a bid, please mail your bid and bid request in an envelope addressed as follows: Return Address-Postage-Timber Sale-(16-9-15) To be opened July 7, 1980-Mr. Billy Sills

Whose convenience dictates public meeting policies?

Sea Coast Echo and Daily Herald representatives Thursday arrived at Waveland City Hall several minutes before the regularly scheduled 7:30 p.m. meeting of the Board of Aldermen to find the ground floor board meeting room locked.

Also locked from inside were the doors to the second floor level of City Hall where the mayor, the four aldermen and Ray Eaton of Louis Eaton Engineers of Jackson were huddled in an unannounced meeting.

The Echo learned those second floor doors were purposely locked after that 'secret' meeting got under way.

City Clerk Barbara Rappold, who is also the city's Ward One alderman, said matters discussed behind the locked doors included items perfunctorily acted on by the board later in the scheduled meeting - items dealing with the expenditure of well over a million taxpayer dollars.

The ostensible reason for the unannounced, locked-door, 'workshop' meeting, according to the Waveland officials, was to accommodate Mr. Eaton who wished to return early to Jackson.

To our way of thinking, it ought to be Mr. Eaton who accommodates the City of Waveland and those taxpayers who eventually have to come up with the multiple hundreds of thousands of dollars to pay for the improvements being planned by Mr. Eaton's firm, and the fees he will charge for those services.

To our way of thinking, the taxpayers of Waveland have the right to complete information on all stages of development of these essential and expensive water and sewerage improvements.

Public officials in Mississippi continue to insist they do nothing illegal in gathering at unannounced meetings behind locked doors, and that may be true given the weak open meetings and public records laws of this state.

The Mississippi Press Association lobbied vigorously in the last session of the State Legislature for stronger protections of the public's right to know, but those measures did not make it this time.

However, the Legislature's 'wisdom' on the issue of open meetings will not discourage us in our position that - while unannounced, closed-door meetings of public bodies and impromptu gatherings of public officials to discuss public business may not violate weak Mississippi laws - such assemblies certainly are a violation of the spirit of democratic government and an affront to the voters and taxpayers who have placed their trust in those officials.

We are disappointed to find Waveland officials now among the ranks of those with so little regard for the public's right to know.

And we are alarmed to find engineers who are in no way accountable to the public dictating the meeting policies of our elected officials.

News from the governor's office

Governor William Winter has signed into law legislation creating the state Board of Energy and Transportation, the first step in establishment of a coordinated energy policy for the state.

Winter recommended the bill to lawmakers in his 1980 legislative package and hailed its passage as "the most significant act of this legislature."

Winter said the new law may become a model for the rest of the nation, "because it combines for the first time in a single agency, the responsibility for planning, development, and coordination in the areas of both energy and transportation."

Winter earlier made an unannounced inspection of the State Penitentiary at Parchman. State law requires the governor to make at least two unannounced visits to the prison each year.

Winter said following a tour of the prison that he was pleased with its operation.

The governor toured the prison industries section, inmate housing facilities, including the maximum security section, and alcohol and drug center.

He inspected new housing units under construction, the present infirmary and a new prison hospital which is yet to open.

He also talked with acting warden Eddie Lucas and prison employees as well as inmates.

"I was pleased with the overall administration and operation of the penitentiary," Winter said following the tour. "I realize that there are some problems which exist at the prison and I intend to do what I can to see that they are resolved."

Winter said he was concerned that prisoners eligible for work release or parole must remain at the prison because of a lack of jobs in the public sector.

Winter said he intends to work with prison officials to see that inmates eligible for work release or parole are provided with proper assistance in job placement.

"Keeping inmates on the prison grounds who are eligible for work release or parole helps contribute to the backlog of prisoners in our county jails," he said.

The governor also said he wants prisoners to be provided with additional reading materials and wants the prison industries program expanded and improved.

OVERFLOW CROWD—Officials of the Hancock County Library System report an overwhelming response from area youngsters to its Summer Reading Program with more than 500 registered at the system's branches in Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Kiln. These participants are watching a puppet show Thursday morning at the City-County Library on US-90 in Bay St. Louis. Librarian Prima Wusnack reports because of the large number of participants, some of the activities at the Bay St. Louis branch will be held twice on scheduled days, and entry will be limited through issuance of advance tickets on a first-come basis. Tickets must be obtained at the library prior to the activities planned for June 26 and July 3, 8, 10, and 17. For additional information, call 467-5232. Bits 'n pieces

We cannot figure why our local officials have been unable to receive some aid for the restoration after the severe tornado struck the Garden Isle area.

It is good to see that Supervisor James Travirca has gone ahead and started removing the tons upon tons of debris from the area.

We can appreciate the cooperation Travirca is receiving from the City of Bay St. Louis, Supervisor Sam Perniciaro, Hancock Sheriff Ronald Peterson and Robert Boudin, Civil Defense director.

On a visit to the area Thursday, we could sense the worry of the residents on how it has become a dangerous fire hazard since it has gotten so dry.

We hope some funds will soon become available to reimburse the expenses of the much necessary removal of the trash.

It is good to see the grass has been cut between the Beach Road and the water's edge in downtown Bay St. Louis.

Too bad the crew could not have gone all the way to Washington Street. We have been told by the supervisor there are some folks in the area who have threatened him with a law suit if the county cuts the grass.

We guess it probably comes from a few who don't ever want to see the majority get anything.

We understand that the current property where the Dog Pound is located in Bay St. Louis will be taken over by the owners very shortly.

There have been numerous discussions about the construction of a new dog shelter through the cooperation of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

The time seems to be now for the three political entities to get together and make the selection of a parcel of land and begin construction.

The local Humane Society has pushed for the construction of a new shelter for sometime, and we have to commend them for their efforts. But they alone cannot accomplish a shelter without help.

It makes us shudder to think of the many people who have drowned in the 'hole' off Beach Boulevard near Buccaneer State Park.

We notice the signs of warning are on the sand beach, yet we still see people swimming in the area.

As Waveland's Mayor Johnny Longo said recently, you can watch the parents leaning on the warning signs while their children swim dangerously near the hole.

We wonder what will it take to keep the people out of the dangerous area. It seems everything but a fence has been tried.

We did notice the post circling the 'hole' are still there, but it seems the signs on the post in the water have disappeared. The storms in the early spring probably knocked them down.

The Civil Defense office might consider replacing those signs in the water on the chance of saving a life.

Question: "How can you say that smoking is bad for athletes when some top basketball pros who smoke can run up and down the court for nearly an hour?"

ANSWERline: The effects of smoking are cumulative, so in many cases, athletes don't pay the price until later. Secondly, individuals are physiologically different from one another. Some people get a smoker's cough and some don't. Some get symptoms of lung disease early in life, and others many years later. There's no question about it - smoking does damage the lungs.

Webb Street resident defends use of school sign in pothole

The Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:

I am writing in regards to the picture in the paper about the whereabouts of the Webb St. school.

No, there is no school on Webb St., just a hole about three feet around and almost that deep.

Just feel lucky the sign is there and not your car. You are wondering how I know. Well, it is in front of my house.

When my husband and I discovered it, we called the police and stood out there and directed traffic until the police arrived.

When the street crew came, they felt very bad.

All they had to put in the hole was sand. They were out of shells and also blacktop.

That was more than a month ago. I for one am glad the sign is there for two reasons.

One, no one is wrecking his car; and second, it sure has slowed the traffic down.

Also, you should be lucky it is in front of my house. People seem to think it is fun to knock the sign down, etc.

I go out and put it back up so you don't mess up your car. I have even put a few nails in it so it will stand.

No, I am sorry to disappoint you, there is no school on Webb St., just a big hole.

Thank you,
Mrs. H.W. Gaoney

ST. ANNE AWARD - Bishop Joseph Howze recently awarded the St. Anne Award to Mrs. Jean Longo of St. Clare Parish, Waveland, the highest religious award given to an adult in Girl Scouting. Longo is the first to receive this award in the Biloxi Diocese. She has been active in scouting more than 20 years in this area.

BY DR. L.S. WALKER

AS WE GROW OLDER we should grow also in Christian Maturity. God's Word counsels us to "grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ" - II Peter 3:18. Too many professed Christians, if indeed they have ever had an experience of saving grace, remain spiritually stunted throughout their lives. How tragic! One apostolic writer gives us seven steps to Christian maturity. These are listed as virtue, knowledge, temperance, patience, godliness, brotherly kindness, and charity (or love). - II Peter 1:5-9. "If these things be in you, and abound," he continues, "they make you that ye shall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ" - II Peter.

The number "seven" in the language of the Scriptures is always symbolic of completeness, sufficiency or fullness. To be a fruitful, happy and productive Christian, one must carefully cultivate these seven virtues noted in the scriptures mentioned above in their daily lives.

If one grows rich, mature and mellow in God's grace as he grows older in years, it will depend much upon one's attitude and how he looks at things.

I am reminded of the story I once read about "Grandma's Glasses."

A little boy, the story goes, said to a playmate: "When I get older I want to wear glasses just like Grandma wears. She must have a special kind because she can see much more than most."

"She can see when folks are hungry or tired or sad; and she can even see what'll make them feel better. She can see how to fix a lot of things to have fun with, and she can see what a fellow meant to do, even if he didn't do it right."

She can see when a fellow is about to cry, and she can see what to do to make him feel better. "I asked her one day how she could see so good, and she said it was the way she learned to look at things as she got older. So when I get older I want a pair of glasses just like Grandma's so I can see good, too."

This reminds me of how wonderful and inspiring it is to know that God, in His per- grace and love, can look beyond my faults and see my needs.

As we grow in real spiritual maturity, we will tenderly appraise both the faults and needs of others, as though we wore "Grandma's glasses."

"Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort; "Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God" - II Corinthians 1:3-4.

Episcopal Church Women schedule antiques show

The Mississippi Coast Coliseum will be the site of the eighth annual Gulf Coast Antiques Show and Sale sponsored by the Women of the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer.

The show will be open to the public on June 27, 28 and 29 and will feature selected exhibitors offering for sale an extensive variety of antiques from many countries and spanning many centuries.

This show will feature many outstanding pieces of 18th and 19th Century oriental, English and American country and period furniture, as well as fine porcelains, cut glass, antique jewelry, art glass, lithographs, primitives, fine linens, American and European clocks, old books, fore-edge paintings, heirlooms, silver, charming wicker, and painting, the church women reported.

Both Master Charge and

Visa will be honored at most booths. In addition, a $25 gift certificate, redeemable at any booth during the show, will be awarded daily.

Snacks will be available during show hours. Don't miss the 8th Annual GULF COAST ANTIQUES SHOW - June 27th, 28th and 29th.

Show hours are from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday and from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Southern Baptists sponsor radio show

"Country Crossroads," a half-hour of country music can now be heard on WKGR AM each Sunday at 10:30 a.m.

"Country Crossroads" is a public service presentation featuring the music of Bill Anderson, Loretta Lynn, Kenny Rogers, Charley Pride, Crystal Gale, The Statler Brothers, The Oak Ridge Boys, and Dolly Parton.

Interspersed with the country recordings that are high on the week's popularity charts are personal appearances by some of the stars who are playing and singing the songs, plus interviews with other figures in the country music field.

These personalities share thoughts on life, lyrics and their personal experiences. Co-hosts of the show are Bill Mack and Jerry Clower.

Mack has been recognized nationally three times as Country Music Deejay of the Year.

Clower is a Grand Ole Opry star.

"Country Crossroads," produced by the Southern Baptist Radio and Television Commission, has won several industry awards for excellence and is heard on more than 800 stations in the United States.

There's an Answer!

Wants life death

Q. I lost my mother about three years ago. I am a male hospital employee, and I watched my mother die. Oh, how hard it was. I know it would seem I could be over it by now, but to this day I have not found anything to ease the pain of her going away. As days come and go the more I want to end it myself. I long for the day that I too can rest, that my heart will be filled with love for others as it is for her. I hope you can tell me how I can live yet be with my mother at the same time.

A. You are refusing to face the present and the future by living in the past. By an act of will, get hold of yourself. Each morning say, "This is the day that the Lord hath made. I will rejoice and be glad in it." Offer a thankful prayer for your mother's life, then get on with your own. Glorify her life by making something of yourself. You'll soon see that life is well worth living.

Perhaps you will find help in our booklet, "You've Got a Future," which is on its way to you. Anyone wishing a free copy may write to us at Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564.

Nothing helps her

Q. I tried positive thoughts for two days - nothing. Nothing helps me. I've had a counselor, doctor, nothing helps. One day I'm up, the next down. I'm so tired of living like this I'm beginning to ask myself what's the use. This is three years of misery since I lost my husband, my wonderful companion. I have asked God to help me, but even that don't help. Maybe if I unburden my heart to you it might help. Thanks for listening.

A. Trying positive thinking for two days, then throwing it over, is preposterous. That is no trial of right thinking. Indeed, it isn't even a beginning. To excel in positive thinking requires long, hard mental discipline. Worthwhile self-improvement cannot be achieved in two days; maybe not even in 200 days. You have to hang in there and keep it going. Then you will get a good result and your life will change for the better.

Our booklet, "How to Have a Good Day Every Day," is on its way to you. Anyone wishing a free copy may write to us at Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564.

Instead of smiles

Q. We are a church-going Christian family. Yet our son, an 18-year-old high school junior, is a hostile young man. He's intelligent, handsome and has a beautiful set of teeth. No one sees that, though, because he scowls instead of smiles, and he speaks harsh, hateful words. He loves violent books and movies. He's not like us. What can we do?

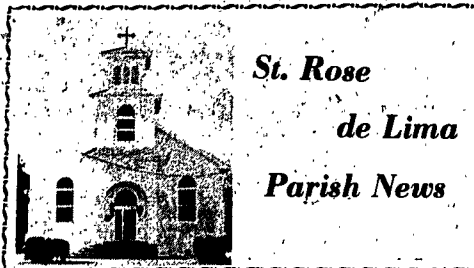

A. Sounds like he isn't yet dry behind the ears and is still in the infantile state. Bear with him. Some young people experience arrested or slow maturing. Such hostility as you describe is symptomatic of such condition. Believe in him and in due time he will get with it.

Can't stop fussing

Q. What can I do to break a bad habit and win my husband back? We've lived together only 8 weeks in the past 3 years. He tells me he left because of my fussing. I was married before and that husband complained of my fussing. I think my present husband is staying away until his children grow up. But that could be 5 years from now! They are 22, 18, 16 and 13. I had been trying to raise them. They all need correction, yet I can't seem to master a system what will work without fussing. I love my husband. Please help.

A. It would seem, since you have lost two husbands because of fussing, that you should clearly perceive that your fussing had better cease. And the only way to improve your situation is to stop this fussing habit. What you call "fussing" is an undisciplined way to deal with people, and they resist it. Try to control your emotional reactions and act in a rational, normal manner.

Nasturtiums are not only pretty, but good to eat

Nasturtiums, a genuine fourth place among flowers heirloom flower, were among the first seeds ordered after Perry. Mississippi the colonists established trade Cooperative Extension Service Horticulturist.

Now, nasturtium holds Nasturtiums have many uses. The long slender flower stems are smooth and leafless; you can use them in arrangements to fill empty spaces.

They smell good enough to eat, and they are. Use fresh unopened buds in salads or, if you have a large crop of nasturtiums, pickle them, he suggests.

Nasturtiums' fresh foliage, like tiny blue-green upside-down Frisbees, is unlike any other flower. Modern varieties are bred to hold their blossoms above the foliage. Colors include garnet, cherry, pink and cerise in addition to the traditional yellow, gold and cream shades with dark markings.

If you want vining nasturtiums, buy the old-fashioned single types. The modern varieties have ornate double blossoms and compact, non-vining plants.

Nasturtium seeds sprout best in total darkness, so cover seeds to a depth of one-fourth inch, he cautions.

YOUR BEST SUMMER SETTING FOR SAVING

Southeast Mississippi is known for its hot, humid summers. Air conditioners bring comfort — but they also bring higher electric service bills. In fact, Mississippi Power's typical residential customer uses twice as many kilowatt-hours of electricity in the summer months as in April. We want to help you get the greatest possible value from your electric service dollar. These air conditioning suggestions may help.

THERMOSTAT SETTING

A few degrees will make a big difference! For greater efficiency and less cost during the summer, set the thermostat at the highest comfortable temperature, usually about 78 degrees or higher. As shown by the chart at right, the difference between maintaining 78 degrees and 72 degrees can increase energy consumption as much as 63 percent.

FILTER MAINTENANCE

Clean or change the air conditioning filter at least once a month — more frequently if necessary. A dirty or clogged filter will make your air conditioning unit work harder and use more electricity. A dirty filter may lead to serious and expensive repairs.

GENERAL OPERATION

If your air conditioner has been shut off during a cool night, give it an early start the next morning before a new day's heat fills the house. But remember, when starting the unit, don't set the thermostat on a colder-than-normal setting. This will only make the unit run longer, not cool any faster.

FREE PASSAGE OF AIR

Don't block the air flow the equipment needs. Keep shrubbery trimmed around the air conditioning equipment. Inside, make certain that you keep window drapes and furniture out of air flow path.

ENERGY EFFICIENCY RATIO

If you replace or add a cooling unit, select one with a high energy efficiency ratio (EER). The higher the EER number, the more efficient the cooling unit. Generally, an EER number of 7.5 or better is considered good.

EQUIPMENT INSPECTION

It's a good idea to have your air conditioning equipment inspected by a qualified serviceman at the beginning of the cooling season. You could prevent an expensive repair bill later. And remember, an air conditioning unit in proper working condition will mean better efficiency and lower operating costs.

road. Commission Victor Frankiewicz said, "The Corps has also reduced the amount of dredging."

Webre added, "Yes, decreased the dredging to reduce the Corps' cost way down."

Frankiewicz reported, "The basin will be 330 feet by 410 feet for 40-48 docking berths."

Webre explained, "Burke and Associates of New Orleans estimated the cost of the completed harbor design would be $1,276,000. If we put this project into effect we would need $800,000 more from the county."

"This means when we give the Corps this resolution approving their proposal they're ready to begin the project," Webre added.

Kellar stated, "The Corps has made this project just about impossible for the county to undertake."

Frankiewicz said, "I think the Corps has made a lot of changes to the basin plan, but has not changed the other aspects of the project to suit the reduced plan."

District Four Supervisor Sam Periclaro, Commissioner Dave McDonald, Artigues and Webre discussed the purchase of possible spoils areas and project cost-cutting alternatives. Kellar ended the discussion by stating, "I don't know where any county money is going to come from. I thought this was a Port and Harbor Commission project."

Commission President James DeBlanc asked Kellar, "How many extra mills will you give us?"

Kellar replied, "I don't know where this board could come up with $300,000. We've got reappraisal facing us and we're trying to squeeze every penny to keep taxes as low as possible."

Artigues asked, "If we take the first step, where do we go from there?"

Kellar replied, "Initially the project required $100,000 from the county."

Frankiewicz said, "We'd have to look at how much money the harbor itself could generate. At $25 per boat slip each month we're looking at $1,000 per month revenue to retire a $130,000 loan."

"There's a big market for commercial boat slips," Frankiewicz suggested.

Webre said, "Don't forget the value of the project was based on commercial fishermen using this facility, not sport fishermen."

"Changing the scope would change the entire project," Webre added.

Frankiewicz then suggested increasing berth rentals to $110 per month and explained, "If the fishermen feel a higher rent fee would improve their facility they'd be willing to pay for it."

Webre replied, "I don't know of any fisherman who would pay that kind of rent."

Artigues suggested, "I think we ought to sit back and wait until more federal money is available."

Frankiewicz suggested, "Let's request the Corps to hold this project in abeyance."

Webre said, "I think Kellar wants a recommendation from the commission."

"I think we ought to recommend putting this project in abeyance until the commission has time to study it further," Webre suggested.

The commission also discussed Economic Development Administration fund applications to pave the industrial park road at Stennis International Airport.

Webre said population statistic's compilation was the only thing holding up funds.

Webre reported Advanced Developments Inc. of Bay St. Louis is handling project applications and added, "The commission hasn't paid ADI anything for this project yet."

"This project would give us a blacktopped road to the cattle apron at Stennis Airport," Webre explained.

Travica stated, "I think we need to put emphasis on Stennis because a lot of small industries there would help employ a lot of women in the north part of the county."

Kellar asked, "What's ADI's excuse?"

Webre replied, "Buck passing at the Courthouse."

Kellar asked, "Could you get someone else to file these applications?"

Webre said, "I think the data they needed has been obtained, but I think the environmentalists found some wetlands near the airport. I think they found high wetlands or something."

Commissioner Fred Curet said, "They'd find a swamp on the top of a stoney mountain."

The commission also held a 15-minute executive session as requested by Curet, but did not reveal the purpose for the secret meeting.

Waveland issues over $2 million in permits

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Waveland issued building permits valued at $2,640,873 in the first four months of 1968, the highest permit figure for the local tri-city area based on Mississippi Research and Development Center figures.

Over the same period, Bay St. Louis issued permits valued at $479,810 and Pass Christian issued permits valued at $260,110.

The major portion of the Waveland permits were 28 issued in April valued at $2,018,578.

Bay St. Louis issued fourteen permits valued at $126,000 and Pass Christian issued four permits valued at $114,000.

Waveland's April permit figures were boosted by seven commercial building permits totalling $1,879,178.

However, Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian issued no commercial permits for that month.

Ducree Bourgeois, Waveland's building inspector, said Wednesday morning the local April commercial permits were issued to the builders of the Choctaw Shopping Center, now under construction on the northeast corner of US-90 and Nicholson Avenue.

"Two of the permits were issued to the contractors who are now enlarging National Food Store and T.G.&Y. Family Center," Bourgeois added.

Both stores are located in Waveland's Our Shopping Center located on the southeast corner of US-90 and Waveland Avenue.

Waveland also led in permits for alterations, additions and repairs for April with 19 permits valued at $71,500.

Bay St. Louis listed 12 permits valued at $38,500 and Pass Christian showed one permit for $3,000.

Residential permit figures show Pass Christian issued three permits in April valued at $111,000.

This was the highest residential permit figure in the tri-city area with Bay St. Louis issuing two permits valued at $87,500 and Waveland also issued two permits, but they are valued at $67,500.

Trio arrested for marijuana

Three men were arrested early Saturday morning by Waveland police for possession of marijuana over one ounce and cultivating marijuana.

Daniel Burch, 28; Troy Langlais, 21; and Nathan J. Matherne, 26, no addresses given, were arrested at 3:45 a.m. for the charges. All three were released on bond, according to the jail book.

Waveland law enforcement officials were unavailable for comment Saturday afternoon.

CARTER'S PLAN
President Carter asked Congress on March 2, 1978, to approve his plan to revise the federal Civil Service system to allow more flexibility in rewarding merit and penalizing incompetence.

Mr. and Mrs. Raul Guevaras won the Friday Scramble with Mr. and Mrs. Al Dousson in second place and the Walt Hauers in third. Denise Bourg, Julie Schaeffer and Shoen Heiler are attending the Girl Scout camp at McCloud Water Park.

Maria Rodriguez and DMGA champion Mike Schaeffer teamed to win the Sunday Scramble by a wide margin.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvis McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Saul Rubin and Mr. and Mrs. Walt Hauer had a three-way tie for third.

Johnny and Bille Jean Barger, former Marina managers, were over for a week-end, reports Harrie Devine.

This week's events will be very interesting. The Mardi Gras committee meets at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, June 24 at the Sales Lodge.

The Bazaar for the benefit of the DVFA organized by the Ladies' Auxiliary will be June 27, 28 and 29 at the fire station.

The Fishing Rodeo will be June 27, 28 and 29 with the crowning of the queen at the Hawaiian Luau on June 27.

Corrine Ladner reports on the "Back Nine Halt-Handicap Tourney."

A-Flight went to Iva Mae McDonald with Lee Arnold as runner-up and Margaret Price with the fewest putts. B-Flight champ is Genny Holzer, Katherine Dousson is runner-up and Helga Mitchell had fewest putts.

Doris Wattigney won "Closest to the Pin".

A bus load of 45 members and guests of Chapter 2154 of the American Association of Retired Persons (A.A.R.P.) of Metairie, La. were guests of Mrs. Ruby Grandel at her Home in Holiday Village. The theme was an old fashioned picnic with games, contests, hikes and berry picking.

Bernice Wojdacz and Lee Lewco assisted in serving the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wojdacz announce the arrival of their first grandson. The proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. William McClelland of Romeo, Mich.

The DMGA's weekly tourney assumed a different format with the players flighted according to handicaps.

The winning foursome with the lowest net score was Howard Mitchell, Glenn Smith, Bob Tonner and Bert Wattigney. A-Flight was won by Austin Price, Cliff Russell second and Walt Hauer third.

B-Flight pro was Vince Almerico; Saul Rubin and Ed Denys tied for third.

C-Flight went to Bob Solomon while Al Dousson and Woody Sanders tied for second.

D-Flight champs Glen Smith and Bert Wattigney tied with Bill Auslander third.

Lee Peterson and Helene Adams are enjoying a few days in the sun at Sand Piper Cove at Destin, Fla.

Sally Jane Doerr of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. along with her three children and their British "Nanny" Susan Carrol of Plymouth, England are visiting Sally Jane's mother and father, Sally and Frank.

Diamondhead News

BY WATSON AND LITTLE

Birdsong.

Floye and Ricky Thorpe have as their guest Nicky Nichols, of Haslemere, Surrey County, England. This is her first trip to America and she came alone.

The children of Virginia and Richard Criss surprised them completely with a party for their 25th wedding anniversary.

Harold and Bertha Morris had as their guest for the week end JoAnn and W.H. Smith of Algiers, La. On Father's Day the four of them went to Folsom, La. to visit with Lois and Richard Koch. JoAnn and Bertha are old time residents of Bay St. Louis.

Mary and Hugh Morris entertained Diane Todd, a coloratura soprano who has graced the music world since 1961 with such operas and plays as "Stop the World, I want to Get Off" and followed Julie Andrews as Eliza Doolittle of the national company of "My Fair Lady" in New Orleans.

She still sparkles on and off the Johannesburg theater circuit as the best-known musical star, where she makes her home now.

Flag Day was celebrated at a private party. The home was so decorated: red, white and blue. Everyone was requested to bring a flag, and good American food was served.

Diamondhead Women's Golf Association nine hole group journeyed to Beau Chene to play with the nine hole group there and came home with all kinds of honors.

Joe Gatipon won first in her team, Wilma Smith second in her team, and Clarice Guston third. Evy Bond won for the longest drive.

Little Theatre features Florida opera star in Ziegfeld production

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre will present 30 variety acts each night in a production titled "The Golden Era of Ziegfeld" Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The Little Theatre production features a Florida opera singer, a Biloxi dance team and several local performers.

Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. each night at the Red Barn Theatre on Boardman Avenue in Bay St. Louis.

Show Director Olive McKenna reports, "We are featuring Henry and Enola Punzo known as The Dancing Punzos, a Biloxi dance team and Alan Baker a baritone singer formerly with the New York City Opera."

"Baker also sang with the Boston Opera Co., the Philadelphia Lyric Co. and performed as guest artist in La Traviata at the University of Southern Florida in Tampa," McKenna says.

"He is now the artistic coordinator of the Osolo Opera in Sarasota, Fla. He will begin a concert tour in August and in November will be featured in Coss-fan-tutte in Omaha, Neb.," the director reports.

"Baker is now vacationing on the Mississippi Gulf Coast and has donated his musical talents for this musical, variety show which is a fund raiser for our Little Theatre," McKenna says.

"We are also featuring many local talents which include Fred Horn, Bunk Gardner, Lana Noonan, Phillip Scafield, Harold Masson, Ted Morel, Karen Compretta, Ed Craig, Hensel Baxter, Lori Garsied, Lynn Garrison, Jannelle McLaine and a bevy of beautiful dancing girls," the director states.

"We will present 30 acts each night consisting of comedy, song and dance routines," McKenna explains.

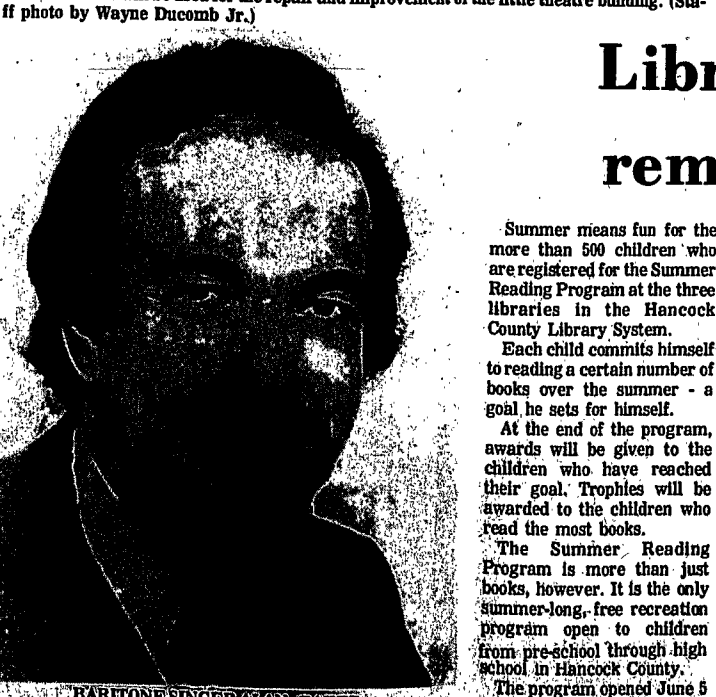

The Ziegfeld producer is Ed Craig; Karen Compretta is in charge of choreography, and the accompanist is Caroline Cruil, all of Bay St. Louis.

"Funds raised these three nights are for the improvement and repair of the Red Barn Theatre building," McKenna adds.

The public is invited and admission is $3.

FEATURED DANCERS—Henry and Enola Punzo, "The Dancing Punzos of Biloxi," practice a dance routine for the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre's upcoming musical, variety show titled "The Golden Era of Ziegfeld." The little theatre presentation, featuring over thirty acts, will be Thursday, Friday and Saturday beginning at 8:15 p.m. each night at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre on Boardman Avenue—admission is $3. Director Olive McKenna said funds raised from the shows will be used for the repair and improvement of the little theatre building. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

Libraries' summer events remain open to area kids

Summer means fun for the more than 500 children who are registered for the Summer Reading Program at the three libraries in the Hancock County Library System.

Each child commits himself to reading a certain number of books over the summer - a goal he sets for himself.

At the end of the program, awards will be given to the children who have reached their goal. Trophies will be awarded to the children who read the most books.

The Summer Reading Program is more than just books, however. It is the only summer-long, free recreation program open to children from pre-school through high school in Hancock County.

The program opened June 5 with a bike parade at City-County Library in Bay St. Louis.

More than 60 children attended and rode decorated bicycles, tricycles, and other assorted vehicles escorted by units of the Bay St. Louis Police Department. Prizes were awarded to the children with the best decorated bikes.

In addition, there were continuous showings of two Walt Disney movies, "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" and "Donald's Dilemmas" in the Crawford Room.

The same films were shown at the Kiln Library the following day to open the Summer Reading Program in that community.

The following Tuesday was Arts and Crafts day at City-

County Library with more than 300 children participating in making foil pictures, kaleidoscopes, bookmarks, and more.

On Thursday, June 12 a full-length Walt Disney movie, "The Rescuers," was shown at City-County Library in the morning and at Waveland Library in the afternoon.

The film was shown the following day at the Kiln Library.

All three showings were to standing-room-only crowds.

On Tuesday, June 17 a "Junior Beat the Clock" was staged at City-County Library, with almost 30 children competing for prizes before a large and enthusiastic audience.

Coming "up" later this summer are more films, including Walt Disney's "The Love Bug," a space costume contest, a fair (including a spacewalk), and a pet talent show.

"Visit the nearest library for a schedule of events. All children are welcome to attend the activities even if they are not registered in the Summer Reading Program," according to Prima Wusack, county librarian.

These activities are provided as a service to the people of Hancock County by the Hancock County Library System, she added.

For information, call City-County Library, 467-5282; Waveland Library 467-9240; or Kiln Library, 255-1724.

Kneip, Brady wedding an OLG evening event

Colleen Marie Kneip, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Toxle Hall of Bay St. Louis, became the bride of Scott Alexander Brady, son of Gulf Catholic Church.

Rev. Denis Harlow officiated before an altar decorated with candelabra, pink and white carnations and white fuji mums.

Scripture readings were presented by Gwen Pendergraft of San Antonio, Tex., sister of the bride; nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. John McKenna, Bay St. Louis, organist, and Mr. and Mrs. August Van, vocalists of Metairie, La.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, the bride wore a formal Chantilly lace gown fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline, long sleeves and cathedral length train. Lace flowers reembroidered with seed pearls trimmed the neckline and bodice and matching lace edged the skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a lace Juliet cap enhanced by pearls. She carried a Colonial style bouquet of white and pink silk roses, lily-of-the-valley, stephanotis, flocked baby's breath and pink forget-me-nots interspersed with white satin ribbons.

Jane C. Williams of Metairie attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Christine Schiro and Donna Protti, sisters of the groom; Mary Wood, Gay and Hope Pendergraft, San Antonio, Tex., and Dawn Heitzmann, Bay St. Louis, nieces of the bride.

James E. Mattingly III of Metairie served the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Marty DeFelice, John Short, Metairie; Doug Allen Jr., Baton Rouge, La.; Frank Renaudin III, Metairie; Mike Seippie, Kenner; and Ed Moise, New Orleans.

Joseph Servat of Waveland and Wayne Heitzmann of Bay St. Louis, brother of the bride, served as ushers. The bridesmaids were attired in pink sleeveless knit halter style dresses featuring long skirts and capelets; the maid of honor wore a dusty rose dress.

They wore pink forget-me-not and baby's breath and pink forget-me-nots with burgundy ribbon streamers. The mother of the bride received guests wearing a dusty rose gown fashioned with a floral print top and butterfly cape. The mother of the groom chose a light pink gown trimmed with rhinestones and silver beads.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the American Legion Home in Waveland.

The bride's table, overlaid with a lace cloth, was centered with a four tier cake trimmed with light pink spun sugar roses, lace and swans.

Carole Heitzmann, sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the guest register.

After a wedding trip to Cancun, Mex., the couple will reside in Kenner, La.

SPACE LAW

National and international authorities on outer space law discussed legal implications of man's activities in space at a recent symposium at The University of Mississippi Law Center. Sessions dealt with legal issues involving the moon treaty, the space shuttle, satellite broadcasting, remote sensing and solar energy. The national meeting was sponsored by the American Society of International Law, the International Institute of Space Law, the Lamar Society of International Law and The University of Mississippi Law Center.

FRIENDS FOR 37 YEARS—Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Keith, right, of Houston visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kingston of 503 North Second Street in Bay St. Louis for several days recently. Kingston and Keith met in 1943 while they both were in the U.S. Navy Seabees in Williamsburg, Va. and they have been friends ever since then. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

Shower preceeds Asher wedding

Debra Asher, prior to her marriage to David Estapa, was honored with a bridal shower hosted by Charlotte Tartavouille at the home of Mrs. Delores Goins in Bay St. Louis.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. Rose Marie Tartavouille, Mrs. Goins and Mrs. Evelyn Asher.

A pink and white color scheme was used for the occasion. The refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of pink and white carnations and daisy pom poms interspersed with baby's breath and ribbon streamers.

The honoree was presented a corsage featuring a white mum and miniature kitchen gadgets. Her mother, Mrs. Kathleen Asher and her grandmothers Mrs. Fred Herlihy and Mrs. Curtis Asher and the groom's mother Mrs. John Estapa were given corsages of multi-color miniature mums.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Earl Knight and daughter Carol of New Orleans.

Stork shower honors Bingham

Mrs. Lynn Bingham was honored with a stork shower June 6 hosted by Mesdames Karen Smith, Natalie Garcia and Etta Fayard at the Smith home in Lakeshore.

A pink and blue color scheme was used in the decorations. Approximately 25 guests attended.

SECOND BIRTHDAY—Jonathan Favre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Favre of Bay St. Louis, celebrated his second birthday with a party Sunday, June 15 at the home of his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Monti. A circus theme was used for the occasion. Others joining in the celebration were his parents; grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Nellus Favre Sr., great-grandmother Mrs. James Taconi; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Rutherford and son Tommy; Neil Walker; Wendy Walker; Beth Monti; Ward Matthews; Mrs. Sarah Favre; Mr. and Mrs. Byron Favre and daughter Mrs. Al Arnold, and daughters Almee and Gretchen; Mrs. Nellus Favre and daughter Erin; Mrs. Bobby Parker and daughter Karen; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taconi and daughter Kim; Jason Lolaceno; and Libby Favre.

SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENT—Anna Maria diBenedetto of Bay St. Louis has been awarded a University Scholarship at The University of Mississippi. The University awards approximately 75 University Scholarships each academic year to entering freshmen and transfer students who are residents of Mississippi. Miss diBenedetto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George diBenedetto, is a graduate of Bay Senior High School. She is listed in "Who's Who Among American High Schools" and was a member of the National Honor Society, American Legion Girls' club and the French Club. She plans to major in computer science at Ole Miss.

FmHA rules to push energy conservation

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) is placing increased emphasis on energy conservation in its loan and grant programs, according to Alex Mercure of Washington, D.C., assistant agriculture secretary for rural development.

FmHA, the credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, has issued proposed changes in its housing regulations to encourage greater energy efficiency and the use of solar systems where possible. Robert Smith of Bay St. Louis, local FmHA administrator, reported.

The agency has also issued directives to its staff throughout the country to give a higher priority to conserving oil and natural gas when considering loans and grants for business and industry, community facilities, water and waste disposal systems, industrial development, rural planning grants and farmers programs.

Under the proposed changes, FmHA will issue minimum passive solar design standards and give "appropriate appraisal credit" to builders who install solar or other energy conserving features.

Borrowers would benefit through lower utility costs and may be eligible for energy tax credits.

Builders using FmHA financing would be required to consider energy conservation when selecting housing sites and to construct buildings so they face the south wherever that is practical.

Before any rent increases for FmHA financed apartments could be approved, managers would have to obtain an energy audit and may be required to install energy saving features.

Additional FmHA assistance would be available to cover the cost of such improvements, Mercure said.

The public is invited to make suggestions and comments by July 7 on the rule changes which appear in the May 7 issue of the Federal Register.

Echoes

Recently returned from a week's cruise in the Caribbean on the M-S Song of Norway were Irene and Phillip Scaffidi, Elsie and Charles Benigno, all of Bay St. Louis, and Alice and Harold Masson of Waveland.

Ports of call were Puerto Plata, Dominican Republic; San Juan, Puerto Rico, and Charlotte Amalie, St. Thomas, U.S. Virgin Islands.

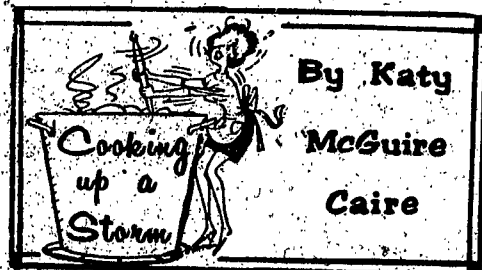

A bus load of 45 members and guests of chapter 2154 A.A.R.P. of Metairie, La.

were guests of Mrs. Ruby Grandel at her home in Holiday Village, Diamondhead.

Visitors participated in an old fashion picnic with games, contests, hikes and blackberry.

Lee Lewko and Bernice Wojdacz of Diamondhead assisted Mrs. Grandel with the serving of salad, cake, coffee and lemonade.

Plans are for the outing to be an annual event for the A.A.R.P. chapter.

Did you know that the strawberry is a member of the rose-family-and-that-fields filled with the wonderful sight and aroma and taste of strawberries greeted the early colonists in Virginia as they disembarked on the shores of the New World?

History tells us that the strawberry was the first fruit the colonists enjoyed in America-what a marvelous introduction to the new world and new way of life!

The Indians planted fields of strawberries and used them even as meal for bread after they were crushed. Taking a lesson from the Indians, the early settlers not only cultivated and enjoyed the berries, they also sent some back to Europe, where the berries had also been grown for some years, and as other varieties were found, those were developed also, ancestors of our cultivated strawberries.

Strawberries are, of course, delicious, eaten without adornment of any sort. I like to serve them, with their stems, still attached, on a platter, along with a shallow bowl of sour cream and another of brown sugar.

Holding the berry, of course, by the stem, dip it first into the cream, then into the brown sugar-Heavenly!

At breakfast I like to mash fresh strawberries over hot buttered toast for a special treat. I just like strawberries every way there is.

And a special dessert very old in tradition, a favorite of George Washington's table is:

FRESH STRAWBERRIES IN MADEIRA SAUCE

¼ cup sugar 1 cup Madeira wine
1 cup water
2 whole cloves
1 (one) cinnamon stick
3 strips lemon peel
2 pints fresh strawberries, washed and hulled
8 macaroons or other cookies, crumbled
Mix sugar, water and Madeira in saucepan, and place over low heat, stirring until sugar dissolves. Add cloves, cinnamon, and lemon peel and bring to boil, then reduce heat and simmer for about a half hour, or until mixture is syrupy and reduced to about a cup.

Remove from heat, strain, and chill for a few minutes before adding the berries, halved.

Cover and chill for several hours. Spoon into dessert dishes and sprinkle with crumbs, if desired. (Serves 6 to 8)

INVITATION FOR BIDS
STUMPAGE FOR SALE
ON COUNTY SCHOOL LANDS
Sealed bids will be received by the Hancock County Board of Education at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, Hancock County, up to and not later than 9 a.m., July 7, 1980, for the purchase on a lump sum basis of all timber, standing or down marked with yellow paint for cutting in Section 16, Township 6S, Range 14W, estimated to contain 886 cords of pulpwood more or less. The above figures are not to be construed to be the exact volume marked.

Each bidder is expected to make his own cruise and to bid accordingly. Before bids are submitted, full information concerning the timber, the conditions of sale and submission of bids should be obtained from the Hancock County superintendent of Education, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, or the District Forester, Mississippi Forestry Commission, Wiggins, Mississippi. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved.

All timber to be sold has been marked with yellow paint on the stump. Only those trees that are marked on the stump and at head height with yellow paint are to be sold and stump markings must be visible after cutting. Trees that are marked with a "K" or marked at the stump only were considered to be culls. Their volume was not tallied, but they may be cut at the option of the buyer.

Proposals shall be accompanied by a cashier's check, certified check, money order, or bid bond in the amount of five percent (5 percent) of the maximum total of the proposal, made payable to the Board of Education, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. If a bid bond is used, it shall be a counter-signed by a Mississippi agent of a surety company qualified and authorized to do business in the State, as required by law. Cash or uncertified checks shall not be accepted, and if attached, shall disqualify the bid.

ALL timber will be paid for when the timber contract is signed. The successful bidder must deposit with the Board of Education, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, ten (ten percent) of the total bid to guarantee the faithful performance of each and every article of the timber sale contract. Upon written notice of completion of the contract in full by the Buyer, the Seller will return the performance bond in full, less any money withheld as damages by the Seller.

Bids should be addressed to the Hancock County Board of Education, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. The envelope should be clearly marked to indicate that it contains a bid for timber. The timber may be inspected at any time.

Representatives of the Mississippi Forestry Commission will meet all interested buyers on the steps of the courthouse, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, at 1:00 P.M., June 27, 1980 to show them the tract of timber and explain markings, how trees were measured, expected volume from specific trees, and answer other questions.

The contract will be for a period of 12 months from the date of signing, and will provide for 6 months extension by mutual agreement of the Seller and Buyer, in case inclement weather should disrupt logging for an appreciable length of time.

The Mississippi Forestry Commission does hereby fix $4.00 as the minimum acceptable price for the designated timber.

In submitting a bid, please mail your bid and deposit in an envelope addressed as follows:
